

Let me remind you that yesterday we mainly talked about Russia and about virtues of the West. In general - about everything good. Today we will mainly talk about the other side of the West - about its negative manifestations and about what challenges it brings to the world today.

It will not be an easy conversation, but we must, as disciples, speak out all these points, remaining impartial and keeping an open mind, no matter how uncomfortable we may be to realize it. For, we need to say all this - so that we still get a complete picture of what is happening in the world today.

So let's get started.

The West is certainly still powerful. More accurately, it is the U.S. and the United West under its control - that is powerful.

This rigid structure creates a strong central power capable of using the combined resources of all countries to serve the global goals of the global Western elites. This structure also allows the media system to be unified into a single, centrally controlled bubble. This bubble is essentially an endless, controlled American news show with very little room left for honest information.

In essence, the West is: a hegemon in the center, which today is unable to maintain its dominance, and a circle of its vassals, who until now have received a piece of the pie from the overall good income. But today everyone in the West understands that the hegemon will no longer share this pie with anyone! On the contrary - it's time to survive – everyone for himself!

Today, the West is trying to maintain a visibility of unity, but at what cost? We can see how the voting takes place at the UN today, how all the countries of the world are afraid to even say a word against the will of the United States - because they know very well their sentence for dissent: sanctions, persecution, color revolutions ... All these actions are thickly laced with lies and hypocrisy and Western "democracy", in which already no one in the world believes.

Let's list some of the trends coming from the West, which, unfortunately, are looking worse and worse with each successive year.

These are material greed, consumerism, cynicism, LGBT-sodomism and pedophilia, internal and external aggression exported to the world. These are just some of the vices. We will continue this list, but first, let us define them.

All of these are a set of lower astral (kama-manasic) manifestations, which in their totality put an impassable barrier on the path of Light.

But let's continue our story. Frankly speaking, all these energies are making me uncomfortable. I can imagine how difficult it is for you to listen to all this. But we can't ignore it all, we are mindful of the big picture that we need to paint together.

What else does the West bring to modern humanity?

! It holds back the development of other countries. You remember how it was announced in the Bush Doctrine over 20 years ago that America would not allow any country to even approach its level of development! The problem is that America does not solve this problem by trying to win in a fair competition. Having lost the ability to develop itself, it solves it by compensating for this distortion by forcibly restraining the development of other countries. Sanctions, bans, political pressure, financial bondage, endless wars, and now a new world war - are all aimed at one thing - to remain the hegemon forever.

Let me call it what it really is. The deliberate restraining of human evolution is the main goal of Evil, cosmic and planetary. Today, it is the primary goal of the U.S. and its allies to restrain it. Please tell me, why are their goals the same?

This unfortunate puzzle we also add to our whole picture, but it will take a special place, I would say, the central one, because such a scale of manifestation of the dark forces in humanity has never been before!

Note that along with the international aggression, chaos is being wreaked all over the world. Do you remember Stephen Mann's controlled chaos technique? Yes, that's right, this chaos is deliberately being wrought, for chaos is also a tool of the Dark Lodge. While humanity suffers from entropy, those who control chaos gain power and money!

The Western elites received and still receive power and money from the ruin and physical destruction of entire countries – only last years: Yugoslavia, Iraq, Libya, Syria, Afghanistan... The list could go on. You know all this... More than a million human victims, destroyed cities and villages - do not count! After all, what are they all - aborigines! You do remember - you were told of good motives every time before invading these countries. And what do you see now?

Now a global war is coming - Ukraine, which is destined to die for the prosperity of those who are on the dark side of the West. It will take a little time, and the truth about Ukraine will also be revealed...

International unprecedented terrorist attacks that destroy the largest strategic multi-billion-dollar group projects of other countries! How is this possible?! What about the ecology? Why is America trying so hard to keep it quiet?

My friends, look at what is happening: amidst the constant, indeed trashy, content that the global Western media envelops you with on a daily basis, terrible things are happening in the world!

Let's add a few more puzzles to our holistic picture.

Let us return from the world of politics to the internal problems of the human masses.

We have already talked about them in passing - LGBT, sadism, aggression...

There is also a new trend that should have germinated in this fertile ground - it is frank, uncovered satanism, - ritualistic satanism, which is already becoming legal in some Western countries, including the United States.

Let's think about this. Perhaps you think the whole world is going to the abyss today? No, my dears, no! It is not "the world that is going down," but that is the United States and its allies are forcibly pushing it there! We can mentally meditate on this, so we could find the roots of these vices and convinced of the truth of my words. It is the West that is the bearer of these vices. I'm not going to mention them -- you know them all.

Not all countries are equally amenable to this influence, and Russia struggled to maintain its will to resist; it had a hard time standing up to this gang rape by Evil.

Today, the SMO opens her up to new possibilities and allows her to actively cleanse herself of this rot!

How will the rest of humanity be able to cope with all this today?!

Let us realize this now.

Another meaning that cannot be escaped today: this is the world war of our days.

In this presentation I can only continue to put the puzzles together into a coherent picture. Therefore, I will only give the main points of this war.

And they are as follows: Ukraine is a Western separatist project that was created in the 19th and early 20th centuries inside Russia for its subsequent split. Since that time, there has been a relentless work, which Brzezinski first declared openly, but in the elite circles of the West, Ukraine has always been seen as a means to destroy Russia.

The coup d'etat organized by the Americans in 2014 was supposed to begin the process of the final implementation of the Ukraine project. The Ukrainian radical neo-Nazis they brought to power, banned the Russian language and started a war against their own people with the help of the army, amending their own Constitution.

It is important to understand that the majority of the population of Ukraine are ordinary Russian people. More than 14,000 people died in this war until 2022. Russia tried to save the Russian population without engaging in open confrontation with the U.S., and all it could do was - lead the parties of the conflict to a Minsk peace agreement. Russia could not then know that the West would deceive it also with these agreements.

Meanwhile, in eight years, unofficial NATO bases have been established in Ukraine, Ukraine has been actively armed on a scale never seen before, and hundreds of thousands of Ukrainians have been trained to kill Russians. Hatred for everything Russian was planted in every place in the country, starting from the school bench; special centers of psychological disinformation were created, in which dozens of thousands of soldiers of the information front against Russia still work.

That is why Russia, realizing that there was very little time left before Ukraine's attack on Russia, made its proposals for collective European security - it was in December 2021, - in which it expressed deep concern that the West is growing its existential enemy right on the border with Russia.

But the West only laughed at this, because it had only one goal - to start the war between Ukraine and Russia. At the same time, it already understood that it would lead it in all directions - financial, economic, political, and of course informational. However, informational preparations for slandering Russia began long before this war. You can also learn about this preparation from my book.

Thus, the U.S. and its allies have now unleashed a new war against Russia, as has happened more than once in the history of humanity. The Ukrainians carry out the orders of their masters - the U.S. and Britain, they die by the hundreds of thousands for the prosperity of the West, they again and again demand from the West more weapons and money, more glory and more self-pity!

But this is not a Ukrainian war, this is a Eur \underline{g} sian war that has been waged by global elites to break up Russia and Europe.

That's probably the main meanings of this war.

Of course, this war now overshadows all other puzzles, it willy-nilly takes center stage in our holistic picture. Hundreds of thousands of people killed, and even more maimed, millions of buildings and structures destroyed, the unbearable suffering of Russian people on both sides of the conflict - all these are the seeds of the negative karma of the West that must be fulfilled.

The most active hawks in this war are the United States and Britain, which dragged the Europeans into this war by promising them a nice piece of the pie from the partition of Russia.

These two powers finally broke the invisible bond of the three in the great triangle of nations.

This fact has yet to be realized by all of us as well.

Here, friends, is the picture we have...

Let's take a half a minute in the silence of our unity before the next part of my presentation. Let's try to harmonize and organize our feelings and thoughts.

Actually, if you want to see a different reality from the Western global media, you can always learn about the latest developments from sources like "RT" in your language.

RT is Russia's official channel abroad, under constant attack by Western authorities for dissent. In the West, this is called combating Russian disinformation. Don't you want to check it out?

I will now utter a phrase unimaginable to some of you. Attention: Russian politicians do NOT lie and are NOT hypocrites, and they are worth listening to! Is that hard to imagine?

Try to see this for yourself by watching Putin's and Lavrov's speeches - try to catch them in a lie yourself if you can. If you do, write to me immediately, maybe you will open my eyes to the truth, and I will accept your point of view.

I have mentioned my non-fiction book several times: it is called Russia in the Embrace of the West.

The history of the Ukrainian conflict and who is really committing war crimes today, the truth about the Georgian-Russian five-day war, Russian sports - all these topics will gain you a new understanding. Many details about Russia itself, about how people lived under the Soviet Union, how perestroika went on in Russia, and how life is now under Putin.

- about World War II and about major world events of recent years...

The investigation of a whole series of provocations carried out to demonize Russia: the deliberate shooting down of Malaysian flight MH-17 in the sky of Ukraine, the poisoning of Litvinenko, the poisoning of the Skripals, the poisoning of Navalny, the chemical attacks in Syria and, finally, the latest example - the "massacre in Bucha" - all of them lead to the British trail - either hidden though clearly visible, or absolutely obvious. These are downright detective stories against the backdrop of various interesting stories from the life of modern Russia!

If you are convinced that all these incidents were only fakes, then you might realize that all the negative background regarding Russia that has followed you in your countries over the past years was just a manipulation of your mind to set you up for war with Russia.

So we come to the final part of my presentation.

PAUSE

Let us pay attention to the fundamental symbols upon which Western ideology is based. Let's just go through some of them to make sure of some things.

Look at the stele in front of NATO headquarters: that plague-brown (Oh yes, plague-brown!) torn Nazi cross does not indicate that NATO is a defensive alliance! Don't you see the resemblance?

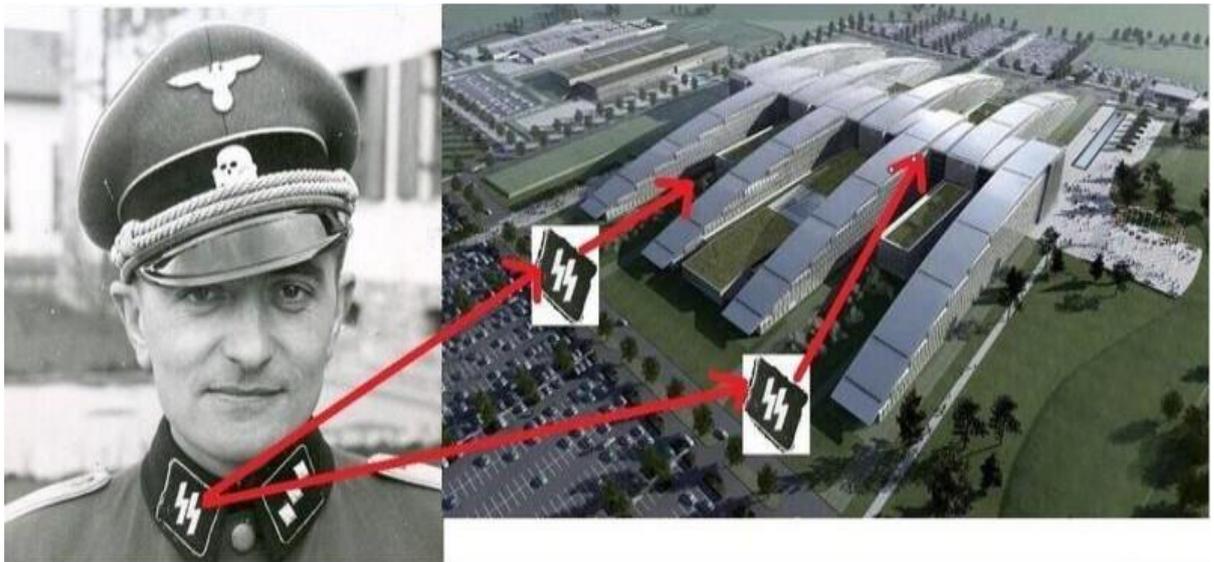

It doesn't take intuition to see the aggressive energy of this symbol. Doesn't it remind anyone of the devil's head? Look at this symbol - try to penetrate it... It's Nazism! Not convincing? Then let's move on.

Does the U.S. Navy base building in San Diego remind us of anything?

If you still believe in the light essence of these forces, look up at the recent (2017) NATO headquarters and your doubts will be gone! This is not an old marginal building, this is a huge world-scale building!

You and I know the power of the symbol, we know that the symbol contains the essential nature of the manifested form! So NATO is Nazism?

But NATO is essentially a united West, isn't it? Well, you know it better than I do...

And here we come to the realization of a very important meaning, just look: the West has built the main, unifying building of all its major countries in the form of the Nazi symbol! It is not difficult to guess that it is a symbol of power over the world, it is a symbol of superiority, it is a symbol of revenge!

It is not hard to guess against whom this power is directed!

If we still have any doubts, let us look at the Military Structures of the European Union: here is the emblem of the Military Committee of the European Union. Question: What is this military committee doing in the Urals - in the center of Russia? Or how else should we understand this bellicose map shaded in black, and why is the color of this map exactly black - what does it symbolize?

Knowing the history of the birth and formation of Nazism in Europe, knowing how carefully its remnants were preserved by Anglo-Saxon and European elites, it is easy to realize that Europe has remained sick with it. After all, Nazism is very close to the colonial essence of Western civilization. And this Nazism is still directed against the Big Neighbor, because for hundreds of years it is the only one that has remained unconquered by the West.

This very symbolic puzzle we will also add to our holistic picture.

Let us now take a fresh look at all these Nazi torch marches funded by the West in the Baltics and Ukraine - not just anywhere, but right next to Russia's borders:

We will see why no one in the West notices the symbols of the Nazi Ukrainian government:

What is all this? Russian aggression?

Where is the Western locomotive headed at full speed? Let's imagine that Russia left the world for a while - where will the West lead the world in this case?

Perhaps to the St. Gotthard Railroad Tunnel in Switzerland, whose iconic Satanic opening was attended by the European elite?

ОТКРЫТИЕ ГОТАРДСКОГО ТОННЕЛЯ

I remember how some Western "esotericists" admired this performance - don't they realize what is behind it?

Or into the world of western stars?

Who is going to lead the world? The Obama clan?

Who stole the apana-mudra from mankind and gave it a devilish cult? Who is spreading this gesture around the world today in its new devilish interpretation?

Could it be the fairytale world of Hollywood, where aggression, destruction, cruelty, and LGBT predominate today? Do we notice it or are we already used to it?

Or will it be a world of transgenders and transhumanists - with the abolition of the family and the creation of artificial human beings?

Who stole the rainbow from humanity?

Is there any doubt that all these tendencies are being deliberately imposed on humanity, trying to infect every corner of it?

Russia has had to endure many sanctions and hardships on various levels for not obeying the American rule of imposing vices, it has had to stand up in this struggle for its soul. But are we, the disciples and aspirants of the world, capable of recognizing this and of standing up against this evil?

Well, dear friends, it's time for a recap.

It's time to put together all the puzzles we've been piecing together all this time and paint our whole picture of the world.

Before we do this, let us formulate what Russia brings to the world today.

Russia would like the whole world to breathe freely--just what it is trying itself to do today.

Russia has for many years advocated a multipolar world, of which the Tibetan spoke as the only favorable scenario for humanity.

Russia stands for strict observance of international law by all nations. In this it serves as an example to others, not once having departed from the letter of international law in recent decades.

Russia stands for multilateralism - when countries think not only of themselves but also of others - and it follows this principle itself.

Russia stands for peace and universal disarmament, for the equality of nations and the absence of diktat from anybody.

Russia is for the unity of all humanity without any barriers.

In short, Russia today already embodies by its example the right international relations, which are the highest analogy of the right human relations.

Try to take my words as a hypothesis for yourself and verify it, based not on the mainstream news show, but on the real actions that Russia takes in the world. This will require some mental analytical work on your part.

Look, here's what we have: two civilizations coexist in the human realm, and each one has a different role to play.

There is Russia, the disciple, Arjuna, a scientist, sophisticated romantic who is not very good at understanding the material world order. He is a scientist and is spiritually advanced, and therefore receives impressions from his soul and from the world is high.

He tries not to harm anyone like any true disciple; he has a sacrificial nature and unselfishly helps everyone who needs help. He often saves them from imminent disaster by putting his life on the brink of existence.

He is an experimenter, experimenting on himself; he has gone through the experience of monastic seclusion. He has been cheated, humiliated, and misunderstood many times, but this is something that disciples often experience, and he holds no grudge against others for it.

There is another civilization.

Here we have a successful businessman. No one remembers how he made his fortune. Too much time has passed. He created a large corporation that did a lot of good and needed things for people.

He was harsh and sometimes even cruel to his employees and to his competitors, but they forgave him for the benefits he gave them.

He is also a researcher who is more involved in applied sciences; his laboratories, scattered all over the world, make his life more convenient and richer.

Like all businessmen, he does not shy away from anything to achieve his goals and takes every opportunity to make money.

Since long ago, he cannot understand the free and lofty nature of his great neighbor, and therefore feels dislike and fear for him. He very much wants to tear him to pieces and subjugate him to himself. But so far, all is in vain.

He once defrauded and robbed his neighbor. After which he gained unlimited power and untold riches. He was so caught up in the fruits of his victory, that he did not notice that he had sunk to the bottom of the matter. Today he frantically looks around for fear that someone will become richer than him, he raids the homes of his competitors, destroys everything around them, forbids them to trade with each other, and levies tribute on each of them.

But nothing helps! An evil entity has taken up residence in him that he does not notice. His life began to fall apart, he began to have big problems with his business, too.

And then he took a desperate step: he decided to kill his neighbor and weaken his best ally. All this could be done in one blow. Hoping that this murder would save his business and himself, he forgot that there is a God, and that God's ways are mysterious.

Look - we have a parable of two civilizations. No details in this parable are invented - we've already talked about all this yesterday and today. This is a very brief picture that can be supplemented with different colored paints.

We can imagine three planetary centers - Shambhala, the Hierarchy, and humanity. Let us imagine humanity as a disciple standing before the first initiation, as a separate entity, having its own vehicles and soul.

Western civilization present itself a sufficiently integrated personality with all the problems that confront such a personality until it establishes a connection with the soul. This personality is beginning to see the light and to realize that there is something or someone else in the world besides him. He is in the deepest crisis, for the truth of being begins to creep into his consciousness. However, now he begins to remotely feel the soul, which for it is still only a vague image.

This image of the soul is nothing but the East. He has yet to manifest in all his glory, but the time has not yet come - he is waiting for the personality to moderate its temper and turn it toward the Light. Then he will show the Way.

Between West and East stands the disciple, Arjuna in his specific sense. In one hand he holds a binding thread filled with strings of light, in the other - a sword that defeats evil. Arjuna stretched his arms out to his sides and a rainbow bridge is already visible between them. Thus he stands - between the personality and the soul.

Perhaps someone will disagree with my judgments in the last three paragraphs. Well, great! May these disagreements be the only stumbling block to our common understanding and Oneness!

Back in the 3rd century A.D., when there was no Russia yet, the great holy elder Anthony said: "The end times will come when nine sick people will come to one healthy person and say, 'You are sick because you are not like us'".

I will not summarize anything, for we have already painted a picture of what is going on in the form of a parable. What more could I add here?

As the Tibetan said, "Sympathy which does not produce positive action of some kind becomes a festering sore".

I will conclude with a quote from "The Externalization of Hierarchy, p. 265" - a book which, in my opinion, should be a handbook for disciples of the West today, for much of what is written there is a direct guide for us, here it is on the slide:

«When I speak of throwing the weight of human influence upon one side or another, I refer not alone to thought power and to what so many euphemistically call "work on mental levels." I refer to the conscious activity of the whole man, working mentally, emotionally and most emphatically physically also. Only those, therefore, who are integrated personalities can work in this manner, and herein lies a difficulty.

Those people today who work only mentally or who sit and send thoughts of love broadcast into the world, and who bask thus in the beauty of their own idealism (making frequently no adequate balancing physical effort to bring this present evil situation to an end through right choice, sacrifice and strenuous service), are in reality of no service at all to any except themselves. There are those who send thoughts of love to the group of evil men who are responsible for world disaster, believing thereby to influence them for good.

I would remind them that love is essentially an impersonal potency or energy, dependent for its effect upon the type of form which it contacts and upon which it makes an impact. Pouring, therefore, upon the selfish materialistic nature, it will only enhance desire and promote increased acquisitive aggression, and thus foster the lower nature and distort the true expression of love, leading to increased evil activity. Pouring upon the selfless, the pure and the disinterested, it will foster reality and true love. These are points which should be remembered at this time by the well-intentioned but occultly ignorant server».

A.A. Bailey, "The Externalisation of the Hierarchy, p.265."

You can read this quote leisurely and think it over on your own, but this is where I say goodbye. Thank you for your attention.
